

Nareen	Powell	Powell's Father
- Long bushy light brown hair which is half tied up - Large golden-brown eyes - Caring, Gentle and considerate - Also, quite timid and nervous - The younger of the two children	- Short, rough brown hair - Thin and skinny with lots of freckles - Small button nose - Thoughtful, caring, clumsy - Wearing dark brown trousers and cream white baggy t-shirt covered in patches of dirt	- Wide eyes with worry - Large bags under his eyes - His dark brown hair is sticking to his face from the sweat - Large rip in his long t-shirt - Dirty clothes especially on his knees

Characters

Vocabulary
Wounded, danger, anxious, worried, villagers, neighbors, wise woman, village elders, father
Connectives
And, so, because, also, additionally,
Openers
Without a doubt, following this, Also, Upon entering,
P A . , ! ? ‘ “ ” : ()

Settings THE WOUNDED STRANGER

Woodland	Village	Beginning	Middle	End
They could hear... leaves swaying in the wind cracking of the twigs under their feet They could see... the sun shining through the gaps in the trees They could smell... damp, moist woodland They could taste... fresh clean air	They could hear... the whispers of the villagers discussing the men's return Boats creaking on the river They could see... Worried looks on people's faces They could smell... Smoke which has lingered on their fathers' clothes They could feel... The warmth of their father's firm grip as they hug them	- Drop their bag of chicken feed and run towards the first pair of men who returned to the village - Saw a strange orange glow on the horizon night before last - Traders come same day every week but didn't turn up that week	- In the evening, Nareen and Powell's fathers return. - They are filthy and scared - Given a quick hug but carry straight on to the village elder - Nareen and Powel hide under the window	- Heard screams and war cries carried through the wind - War drums - Marching and celebrating - Banner of Kent with the foreign army - Church burned to the ground - Every man, woman and child lay dead - Treasure had been stolen - The men are quiet and very upset - Britons has joined forces with people they do not recognise.