

Dear lovely Varjak Paw children,

Miss Green and I would like to say just how much we're going to miss you over the coming weeks, as together we experience another period of upheaval. However, even though most of us won't see each other, we're still here for you.

There are activities from across the curriculum available for you every school day on the 'Home Learning' section of the blog. If you really get stuck with an activity, then please ask your adult to contact us via the school email address; enquiries@walkley.sheffield.sch.uk – we are still here to help!

If you read a really good book, send an email to tell us about it - we can let the other Varjak Paws know about it. Draw a picture or write a poem and send us a photograph of it. If you're able to, go out, get some fresh air and discover something new about your neighbourhood. If you find out something exciting, share it with us.

Try to stay in touch with the news - there will be some things you hear or see that might be a worry (talk to someone you trust, if you are worried), but there will also be something good out there!

Keep in touch with your friends and family on line or by phone if you're unable to see them face to face. Wave to a neighbour. Smile.

As Mrs. Sian said in her letter to you - be the Golden Citizen in your household. Be patient, helpful and supportive. Be kind.

Take care, Varjak Paws - we'll see you soon.
Love from Miss. Green and Mr. Gamage.
