

LI - To identify the key features of a biography

True or False statements about biographies

It will not contain any dates or times at all

It is written in the first person.

It does not use time conjunctions

A biography might include some short, interesting facts.

A biography only tells you about happy events in the person's life.

It has sub - headings for each section.

It is organised into paragraphs

It is presented in an interesting way so the reader can read all the information easily.

It is in chronological order

It has anecdotes - a funny story

It is a fiction text.

It is always written in the present tense.

Authors only write biographies about people who have died.

It is usually information on only one person.

EXTENSION - Write the statements in the correct column in your book with an explanation of the evidence which made you decide whether it was true or false.

